

3's Classroom January Newsletter

Mrs. Hewlett & Mrs. Havighurst

Happy New Year! We hope your families had a wonderful holiday break and are ready to get back into a routine.

This month we will have two themes. We will start with Dinosaurs and end with Superhero's. We will be doing many dinosaur art projects, using rhythm sticks, digging for bones in our sand table and pretending to be Paleontologists at our science center as we hammer our way to find fossils & bones. The last two weeks, we will incorporate fun superhero themed art projects, rescue Superhero's from ice cubes and sort Superhero's in Math. We will practice writing our names and the children will be expected to start writing their own name on their work. If they can only write the first letter in their name, that's a start! We will help them along the way, but the main goal is for them to write their name independently by the end of the school year, or at least a couple of letters in their name. We will learn all about being PATIENT at Chapel this month and learn a new blessing at snack time. It's called the Superman blessing! We will make Jello and learn to be patient for it to cool and eat.

All assessment papers will be sent home around the 2nd week of January for you to review at your convenience. If you decide or we decide together a conference is not needed, the assessment papers are yours to keep. If a conference is needed, an email will be sent out with a link for you to schedule a conference day/time that works best for you. We can also have phone conferences if you feel more comfortable.

We can already tell a big difference in each child and they are growing up so fast! They start off so small, dependent on us and afraid to try new things. We are very proud of them and how far they have come. If you have any questions, feel free to contact us at any time.
